

Blaze Help Center

All Collections > Social Media Management >Social Media | How can I analyze my content strategy on Blaze?

Social Media | How can I analyze my content strategy on Blaze?

Understand which content is resonating with your followers on Twitter/X.

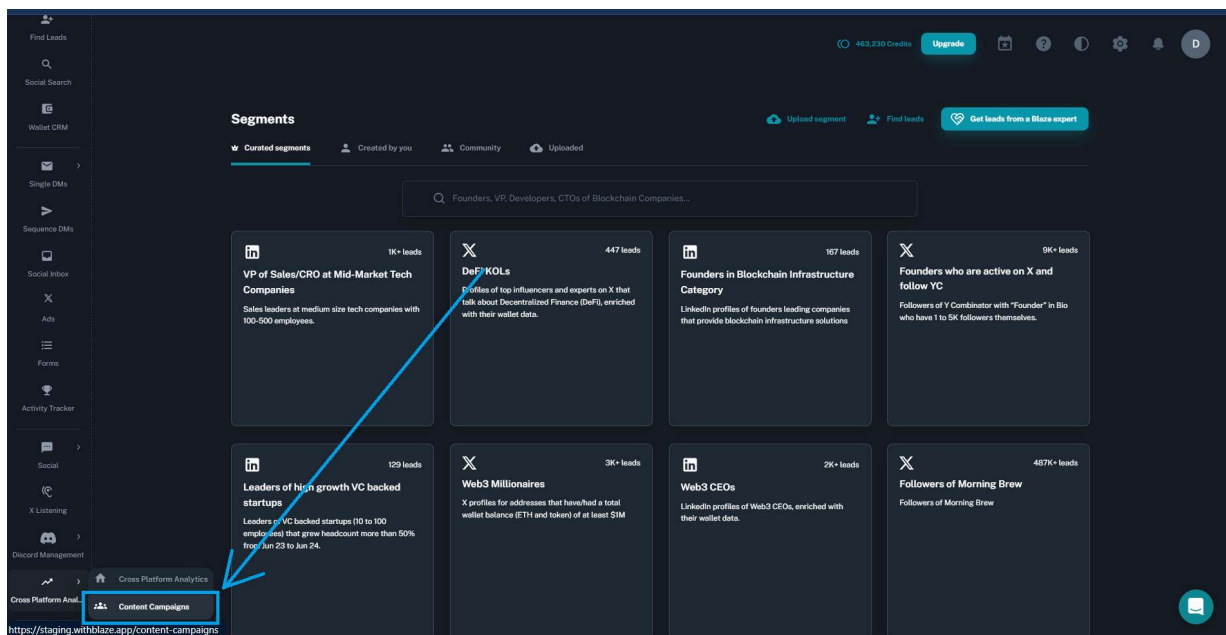

Written by Team Blaze

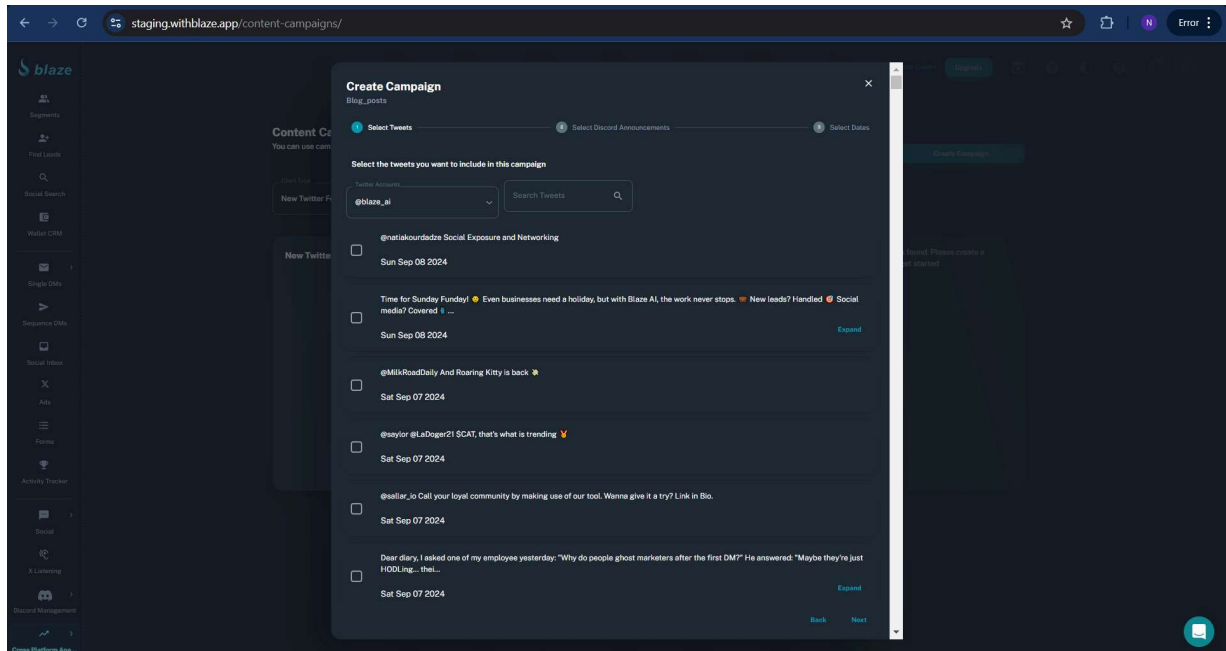

Updated over 8 months ago

You can group your tweets into campaigns to see how different types of content perform collectively.

1. Select Content Campaign option from Cross Platform Analytics Tab

2. In case you don't have any existing content campaigns, Create a new campaign by selecting tweets/discord announcements.

Select date range for your campaign and create.

3. Once you have created your campaign, you can track changes in metrics around the time period that certain tweets/messages were posted.

This allows you to refine your content strategy based on data-driven insights.

Related Articles

Social Media | How can I analyze the health of my Twitter/X account?

Did this answer your question?

Blaze Help Center